

Subj.: TSC REACH Statement

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

According to the information available to us we are not affected by the REACH regulation.

This is justified by the fact that we manufacture our products in our own production plants in Asia and import these as finished products into the European Union only. Once within the European Union no subsequent treatment of the construction units is performed by TSC.

The REACH regulation applies to the evaluation and registration of Products manufactured within the European Union and/or whereupon during Manufacture possible harmful gases or substances are released which could be considered as dangerous for human health and or the environment. Since this is not the case, the REACH regulation from our view is not applicable to TSC.

REACH demands registration of the so-called " Phase in material" ,and refers to those chemicals produced prior to 1981 and included in the EINECS or the NLP lists and not finished products ( Article - which receives a specific form, surface or a shape during the production, which is larger in measure in determining its function than its chemical composition.)

Registration of Substances used in products is required under certain conditions. This is valid for those intentionally released during Production and exceeding the value (> 1t/a) and or if a material cannot be excluded as considered to be dangerous to human health and or the environment.

Further more if such exceeds more than 0.1 weight percentage of the product and brings more than 1 t/a into circulation This does not apply to our imported products.
